THIRTY-FIVE CENTS

Jury deliberating in mass murder trial

By Bob Slate
 Staff writer

A Madison County jury was deliberating on Saturday the fate of two men accused of first-degree murder in the shooting deaths of five men in a mobile home park.

At press time Saturday, no verdict had been returned. Michael Coleman of Venice and Remon Williams of Washington Park each were being tried on five counts of first-degree murder.

A jury deliberated eight hours Friday, but failed to reach a verdict and retired to a local hotel at about 10:15 p.m. Deliberations resumed at 9 a.m. Saturday.

A third man, Sherrell Towns of East St. Louis, is awaiting trial. In closing arguments, prosecutor Keith Jensen, a special assistant attorney general, painted a picture of three men out for revenge against the five victims, whom he characterized as drug dealers.

Defense attorneys Stephanie Robbins, representing Williams, and Thomas Hildebrand, representing Coleman, had focused their attack on the credibility and inconsistencies in statements made by the state's witnesses — some of whom testified in exchange for leniency on unrelated charges.

Coleman and Williams were accused of murdering five men in an attempt to steal drug money. Victims Marion Jennings, 25; Bedford Jennings, 19; Cedric Gardner, 22; David Thompson Jr., 21; and Jeff Moseby, 33, were killed in a mobile home in Eagle Park Acres at about 10 p.m. Nov. 17.

Jensen used an analogy of a village terrorized by tigers in explaining to the jury his reasoning for cutting deals with witnesses.

"A hunter, who captured two tiger cubs, could kill them and bring himself great fame. But if he lets the cubs go, he may be able to lure the mother tiger that has been terrorizing the village," Jensen said. "Sometimes it's better to let the little ones go to get the big tigers."

"These two people took it upon themselves to kill and extinguish the lives of five people," Jensen said.

Hildebrand and Robbins argued that the prosecution had built a good case against Towns, but said that no evidence at the scene could positively link Coleman or Williams, both 22, to the crime.

"You have finger-pointing, innuendo and association. But evidence is sorely lacking," Robbins said.

"A horrible crime has been committed. But who did it?" she asked.

However, testimony of young Chris Fulton linked the two to the killing of Jeff Moseby.

In his closing statement to the jury, Hildebrand apologized for badgering the boy on the witness stand.

"Little kids should never have to see that kind of thing. Adults shouldn't...but somebody fed him the idea that it was Mike Coleman."

If convicted, Coleman faces life in prison and Williams could receive the death penalty. During the trial Thursday, a last-minute witness called to testify in the trial said one of the men charged with the execution-style slayings asked her to lie on the witness stand.

Michelle Garrett Lott, 24, of Madison, testified that Coleman had contacted her several times from jail, including as recently as Saturday, attempting to persuade her to make up an alibi for him.

Towns has reportedly confessed to police and is awaiting trial.

Renegade Democrats blasted by chairmen

By Bob Slate
 Staff writer

The Nameoki and Chouteau Township Democratic organizations, as expected, have endorsed Democratic County Treasurer candidate Mick Henkhaus in the Nov. 8 election.

But the chairmen of the two groups are fuming about renegade officials within their respective organizations.

Henkhaus ran in the primary as an independent Democrat, but has been fully endorsed by the Madison County Democratic organization since that time. He faces incumbent Treasurer John Shimkus, a Republican who ousted him from office four years ago.

Members of the two Democratic organizations endorsed Henkhaus at a recent joint meeting of the groups.

But two "renegade" Democrats, Nameoki Township Clerk Helen Hawkins of Granite City — who is also a Board committeeman — and County Board member Tim Knott of Mitchell, have publicly endorsed Shimkus in the Nov. 8 race.

Ken Davis, chairman of the Nameoki Township Precinct organization, and Mike Carner, chairman of the Chouteau Democratic organization, do not condone Hawkins' and Knott's actions.

"We cannot condone the actions of these two elected Democrats from our townships who have endorsed a candidate from another political party," Davis and Carner said in a joint statement.

OATH golf tourney set for Friday

There are still openings in the fifth annual OATH Organization for the Advancement of the Handicapped charity golf tournament this Friday.

Sharon Varady, OATH executive director, said the tournament is held to obtain operational funds for the OATH workshop, which is for the developmentally disabled. Operational funds cover general costs for items such as lights.

"Agencies like United Way are good for specific grants, but we can't get anything to cover the basic things we need," said Varady. OATH also holds an annual western dance to raise funds.

Varady said the tournament usually brings in about $2,000.

Attorney Dave Hylla started the tournament five years ago. He has been involved with OATH for some time and thought a golf tournament would be a good way to raise money.

"A lot of attorneys enjoy playing golf. We

Venice officer fires at suspect

A Venice police officer says he was forced to fire shots at a suspect during a traffic stop early Thursday morning.

According to police reports, at 3:29 a.m. Thursday, Venice police attempted to stop a gray vehicle without its headlights on as it drove down Baucum Avenue.

Police pursued the speeding car as it turned onto Selb Street, then on Fox Brothers Road, where the driver lost control of the car and came to a stop.

Two people got out of the car and were ordered to the ground by police officers. The officer identified one of the subjects, only as Mike "Twin," and he could not identify the other subject.

Reports said both men began reaching into the right front pockets of their hooded sweat-suits.

An officer said "Mike" allegedly pulled a silver object out of his pocket. The officer said when he ordered "Mike" to drop the weapon, "Mike" answered "no way." Both subjects then got up off of the ground, and "Mike" still had his hands on the weapon.

According to the report, the officer then shot three times at "Mike." Both subjects ran through the field towards Calhoun. The area was searched but the suspects were not found.

New president named for Suburban Journals

Don Miller, former publisher of The Telegraph in Alton, has been named president of the Suburban Newspapers of Greater St. Louis.

The announcement was made Tuesday by Robert M. Jelenic, president and chief executive officer of Journal Register Co.

Journal Register Co. is the parent company of both Suburban Newspapers and The Telegraph.

As Miller moves to the Suburban Journals, former Suburban Journals President Thomas E. Rice becomes publisher of The Telegraph.

"I'm extremely pleased to be able to transfer these individuals, whose backgrounds ideally fit the challenge before them," Jelenic said. "Over the past five years, both Don and Tom have done excellent jobs in their previous positions. I look forward to their continued success."

Don Miller

Miller said the change was welcome.

"I look forward with great anticipation to the challenge of a major metropolitan market," he said.

Miller, 57, had been publisher of The Telegraph since October

New general manager for Illinois Journals

Larry Johnson, advertising manager for the Journal Newspapers of Southern Illinois and a longtime Suburban Journals executive, has been named general manager of the Journals' Illinois division, effective Monday.

The announcement was made Thursday by Marvin Nafstol, vice president of marketing for the Journals. "We're very pleased to have Larry taking over our Illinois operation," Nafstol said. "He has a track record of strong

Pontoon adds police officer

By Hilley Schulte
Staff writer

Pontoon Beach added a police officer to its department at a regular Pontoon Beach Board of Trustees meeting held Tuesday.

The board voted unanimously to hire Richard Schardan to the Pontoon Beach police department.

Schardan, 21, is from Granite City and attended Granite City High School. He will enroll in the police academy at Belleville Area College in December.

Schardan's father, Richard Schardan, has worked with the Granite City police department for 18 years.

The hiring of the police officer followed an executive session called to discuss personnel.

In other action, Bob Vincent, chairman of the finance committee, recommended the purchase of a new computer system at $4,547 for the clerk's office and billing department.

Following that recommendation, Trustee Mike Macek asked how many police officers the board planned to hire.

"One is what we got out of the (finance committee) meeting," replied Vincent.

"I thought our priority was to get more men on the street," said Macek.

Trustee Bob Abel then said that he planned to address the situation in executive session, so Macek called one.

When the board returned, Abel made a motion to hire Richard Schardan as a new police officer "right away."

The board approved the hire. It approved the computer system purchase from Fowler Data Co. for $4,547.

Clerk Lou Whitsell explained that the present computer system is not large enough to support the present and future needs of Pontoon Beach.

The new equipment will be installed as a two-station network, using the present equipment and an external telephone modem.

In public comments, Susan Schulte of Pontoon Beach asked for an update about a trailer owned by Kelly Arnold that's located at Gateway Stables.

The trailer is in violation of village ordinance, and Arnold has been cited for not removing it. Gateway Stables is located next to a residence owned by Evelyn Ringering, Schulte's mother.

Macek said he went to speak with Arnold about the situation.

"I told her that she should probably remove the trailer and go through the proper steps with the zoning board, and that's where it was left," he said.

Schulte then commented on statements that Arnold allegedly made. "We're not harassing her about the trailer. We're just trying to keep updated," said Schulte.

In other business, Whitsell read a letter from the Salvation Army requesting it be allowed to set up roadblocks during the Christmas season fundraising at the corner of Route 111 and Highway 102.

Mayor Glen Wilson said that it is against state regulations to change the lights on state highways. However, several citizens noted a newspaper article citing that individual cities can decide.

Wilson said he wasn't aware of the change in state law, and the board voted to refer the matter to Keith Jensen, city attorney.

A letter from Dover Elevator Company informed the village that the warranty and maintenance services on the elevator at the village offices has expired.

The board directed Whitsell to compare prices on elevator maintenance programs.

A zoning matter at 4300 Elliott was tabled for the third time.

The board is awaiting legal advice as to whether two mobile homes can be allowed on the property.

The board granted three business licenses at the meeting.

One license is for a telephone solicitation for floor covering sales from a residence at 3813 Lake Street owned by Frank L. Cramer.

Another license was granted to Janet and Dennis Johnson for "Nationalities Unlimited," a tanning salon to be located at 4068 Oakmont Center, Suite 2A.

The board approved a business license for Ruth and Danny Stephens for "Lightening Disposal Co.," a disposal service to be located at 4177 Highway 102.

The Stephens said no garbage will be collected or stored at the business location.

The board authorized Abel to either fix or replace a damaged car radio for a price not to exceed $1,900.

Before adjournment, Assistant Police Chief Jim Denham presented Wilson with a T-shirt for raising $2,315 at the "Jail and Bail" benefit for the American Cancer Society.

Sims wins right to old case files

Convicted baby killer Paula Sims has won a major victory in her fight for a new trial.

Madison County Circuit Judge John DeLaurenti, who earlier this month rejected Sims' request for a new trial, ordered her case files be made available to her new attorneys.

Madison County Public Defender John Rekowski and Assistant Public Defender Ron Sterner.

Sims is seeking a new trial, claiming she was inadequately represented by attorney Don Groshong during her murder trial and subsequent appeals.

Rekowski, who was not present during a hearing Wednesday, previously had asked DeLaurenti to make Groshong turn over his copies of Sims' case files to the public defender's office for an appeal of DeLaurenti's decision.

DeLaurenti on Wednesday ordered the case files be made available to a copy service for Sims' use.

Groshong has refused to turn the files over to Rekowski's office, claiming he may need the documents for his own defense since Sims is accusing him of incompetence and gross negligence.

However, Groshong has invited Rekowski's office to review the files in Groshong's office and make copies at their own expense. Rekowski turned down the invitation.

Assistant Public Defender Tyler Bateman, who filed in for Rekowski Wednesday, argued that the public defender's office does not have funds to cover the estimated copying expense. The files contain several thousand documents.

Sims is serving a life prison sentence for the murder of her 6-week-old daughter Heather.

Clinic still operating Doctor is forced to flee from Haiti

By Mike Viola
Staff writer

The past five years could have been so simple and pleasant for Dr. Rene Saint-Leger.

A respected physician, Saint-Leger could have easily retired in 1989, enjoy financial security and sat back and relaxed, reaping the rewards of decades of hard work in medicine.

But instead of enjoying the comforts of retirement, Saint-Leger traded in everything and went to the decaying nation of Haiti to battle poverty, malnutrition and other horrors.

"People said why did I go there, it's so poor and you're not with your family," said Saint-Leger. "I went there because it was the right spot. I saw that there was a need."

Saint-Leger, now 69, came back to live in the United States last month and along with his wife, Susan, have set up an internal medicine practice at Touchette Regional Hospital in Centerville.

"Saint-Leger was forced out of Haiti because of the mounting violence and turmoil of a country in political chaos. But he leaves behind his clinic, still operating to provide the poorest of the poor medical attention and hope for a better future."

Born in Haiti, Saint-Leger has seen his fellow Haitians persevere through generations of poverty and despair.

"Even as a boy, Saint-Leger was aware of the political upheaval that was always engulfing his country."

"There was always some type of turmoil, some type of revolution," Saint-Leger said. "We have a very chaotic history."

Saint-Leger however was lucky. He was able to leave Haiti and pursue a medical career in the United States and Canada.

Eventually, Saint-Leger came to St. Louis where he worked at the old Homer G. Phillips Hospital. He rose to supervisor of the internal medicine program at the hospital.

But Saint-Leger could never leave Haiti behind.

His parents and family still remained in the impoverished country and he would visit frequently, bringing medicine and goods to be distributed to the poor.

He even returned to Haiti for two years to work in Port-au-Prince at a charitable hospital.

In 1988, Saint-Leger opened an office in East St. Louis where he was a primary care physician for 20 years.

With a comfortable lifestyle established, Saint-Leger decided to leave the bountiful United States and move to one of the remotest and poorest places on earth.

He established a medical clinic about 50 kilometers outside of Port-au-Prince and became the only physician for about 30,000 people.

"It was very remote and isolated. Once you're out of Port-au-Prince it's a whole different world," Saint-Leger said.

The poverty and health problems were overwhelming.

Routinely Saint-Leger had to deal with patients suffering from tuberculosis, malaria, pneumonia, a host of sexually transmitted diseases and children so malnourished that they were going blind due to a lack of vitamins in their diet.

Saint-Leger would routinely make trips back to the United States to purchase medical supplies for his clinic.

Susan remained in the United States but would frequently go to Haiti with supplies and to help at the clinic.

"It was culture shock," said Susan. "It was incredible the amount of waste and extravagance that we have here at home."

About three years ago, Saint-Leger began seeing the despair and suffering of his homeland reaching unbearable proportions due to political and military fighting.

There was no order, no law and no justice. Killings took place every day in the streets with police showing no effort to end the slaughter.

Saint-Leger said he was lucky because he had money which meant that he was left alone by the authorities.

"I had land. I was in a special situation," Saint-Leger said. "My next door neighbor did not have anything. His children did not have clothes."

This summer, the turmoil became so bad that Saint-Leger decided that he needed to leave Haiti. But the last plane out of the country had already left.

He made several attempts to cross the border between Haiti and the Dominican Republic but had to turn back because authorities said he didn't have the proper paperwork.

Eventually, the 69-year-old physician was able to get across the border riding a motorcycle and balancing two suitcases during the trip.

Although he has left Haiti, the clinic he founded is still operating, staffed by a physician and a nurse who are paid by Saint-Leger.

If the government becomes more stable, Saint-Leger said he will start regular visits to the clinic to bring supplies and medical attention to the needy.

For the future, Saint-Leger said he thinks the situation will get better for the Haitians with the help of the Americans restoring order to the country.

However, Saint-Leger said strongly that Haitians cannot rely on the United States to fix everything in their country.

Instead, Haitians themselves must rescue Haiti from its problems.

Saint-Leger said Haitians need to follow the advice of John F. Kennedy who 30 years ago told Americans, "Ask not what your country can do for you but what you can do for your country."

County plans to extend current tax for jail work

Madison County officials are abandoning plans to tap a $10 million reserve account to pay for expansion of the county jail in favor of extending a tax scheduled to end next summer.

"I say it's time we got moving on this. I think we're all ready to get this up and running," County Board Finance Committee Chairman Bill Little of Alton said Thursday shortly before the committee voted 4-0 to hire a firm to set between $4.8 million and $5.2 million in bonds for the jail project.

The bonds would be used to cover the costs of adding 38 beds to the 178-bed jail and building a new roof. They would be paid off over the next 15 to 20 years with revenues from the 1.74-cent jail construction tax.

The tax, which costs the owner of a $50,000 house about $2.89 a year, was first imposed in 1979 to pay for construction of the jail. It was scheduled to drop off tax bills next summer when the original bonds are retired.

When overcrowding problems and chronic roof-leaking began

"I say it's time we got moving on this. I think we're all ready to get this up and running."
— Bill Little
Committee chairman

to overwhelm the Sheriff's Department late last year, officials began considering extending the tax to pay for renovations.

Several County Board members had suggested softening the blow to taxpayers by using a combination of the jail tax and money from the county's $10 million reserve. The jail tax could be extended at a lower rate to ease the burden on homeowners, officials said.

But Finance Committee members Thursday indicated they want to leave the reserve fund untouched and pay for the jail expansion entirely with jail tax revenues.

"This seems like the best way to go for the county and for the taxpayers, fiscally speaking," Little said.

The committee voted to hire Stifel Nicolaus and Co. Inc. bond underwriters. The firm, which will be paid about $57,000, will be responsible for selling the bonds to investors and banks.

The full County Board must vote on the proposal. If the board approves the plan, the bonds could be issued by mid-November, in time for the jail tax to be extended and included on next summer's bills.

The most recent architectural projections put the jail project cost at $4.8 million, but the County Board may vote to issue up to $5.2 million in bonds in case of cost overruns or unexpected increases.

More Indian activities set at Mounds

Indian dance performances, an Indian games exhibit, and the availability of a new video program highlight October activities at Cahokia Mounds State Historic Site.

The Kahok Dancers will present free Indian dance performances on Sunday, Oct. 9 and Sunday, Oct. 23 at 1:30, 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. in the Interpretive Center auditorium.

The "Indian Games" exhibit continues through October, featuring illustrations, photographs, artifacts and recreated game equipment, all with explanations about the many games of chance and skill played by Indians in prehistoric, historic and modern times. Guided tours of Mounds Mound are offered on Saturdays and Sundays in October starting at 1:30 p.m.

Self-guided tours are available at all times for these interpretive trails, a tape tour may be borrowed from the information desk, or a guidebook (available in 13 languages) may be purchased in the Museum Shop.

A six mile Nature Culture trail through several ecological and archaeological zones is also available, and guidebooks may be purchased in the Museum Shop or borrowed from the information desk.

Detailed information is presented about the site's history, archaeological work, the mounds and Indian use of the native flora and fauna.

"Cahokia Mounds—Ancient Metropolis," a new videotape, has just been released. This 50-minute program traces the origins, people, culture, structures and products of the Mississippian Indians who built the great city of Cahokia Mounds.

The video is co-produced by the award-winning film company, Camera One of Seattle, and the Cahokia Mounds Museum Society. Call 314-5166 for more information.

Track owners, trainers seek help from legislators

By Martin Richter
Staff writer

In the jockeys' room at Fairmount Park, Linda Fisher was showing off the racing silks worn by the jockey who rides her thoroughbred, Life's A Party.

"My colors are red and green, because if you're lucky enough to own a horse, every day is like Christmas," she said.

Unfortunately, there hasn't been much holiday-like cheer around the race track since riverboat gambling came to Illinois.

As the state's gamblers have flocked to the riverboats or thrown their dollars at dreams of lottery millions, less money has flowed through the betting windows at Fairmount and other horse tracks.

"I would venture to say that our handle is down 40 percent in the three years since the riverboats opened," said Bobby Pace, racing secretary at Fairmount.

Pace said the average daily handle at Fairmount is now about $200,000 per day. John Baird of Caseyville, an owner and trainer, said the average handle was about $500,000 a day as late as 1987.

On Tuesday Pace, Fisher and others whose lives revolve around the galloping thoroughbreds and harness-racers at Fairmount made a pitch for help to a group of six state senators from Southern Illinois.

Senators in attendance represented all of Illinois from Madison County south. They included William O'Daniel, D-Mount Vernon; Frank Watson, R-Carlyle; Evelyn Bowles, D-Edwardsville; Kenneth Hall, D-East St. Louis; Ralph Dunn, R-DuQuoin and James Rea, D-Christopher.

The senators met with Pace in his office and talked to other employees as they toured the track. As they paused for coffee and doughnuts in the Top of the Turf room, they were joined by St. Louis Cardinals broadcaster Mike Shannon, a racehorse owner.

Keeping the horses running at Fairmount Park is extremely important to the local economy. The track is Collinsville's second-largest employer, behind only Collinsville School District, and is a major tourist attraction.

Talk during the senators' visit Tuesday centered on leveling the playing field between race tracks and the newer forms of gambling, and with getting a greater voice for Southern Illinois tracks in an industry that has traditionally been dominated by the big tracks in the Chicago area.

One item of discussion was the possibility of a subsidy for horse racing from other gambling sources, particularly riverboat gambling.

They also talked about addressing the issue of operating hours. Alan Crocker of the Illinois Horseman's Benevolent and Protective Association noted that the horse racing industry still operates under "antiquated rules" that strictly regulate the hours when betting is allowed, while riverboat operators are allowed to run gambling virtually around-the-clock.

"The only thing we have in common with those people is the money, and we're on a very uneven field," said Pete Reiman, an owner from Campbell Hill, Ill.

The horsemen and senators also talked about trying to make Chicago tracks accept more simulcast races from Fairmount.

Currently, Fairmount Park simulcasts to Chicago-area tracks on Tuesdays, and usually takes in between $500,000 and $600,000 on those days.

The Illinois Racing Board dictates when tracks must take simulcast signals for off-track betting.

"If they would have to take our signal in Chicago, and if we could have some piece of the three riverboats down here, we'd have quite a program," Crocker said.

Fairmount opened a new off-track betting parlor at Alton Landing, the Alton Belle's docking facility, on Aug. 18. The parlor ranked 13th among the state's 28 OTB parlors in the average amount wagered per racing program in its first 10 days, said Bob Lang of the Illinois Racing Board.

The average handle, or amount wagered per racing program, at the Alton parlor for the period was $16,170, Lang said. Typically there is an afternoon and evening racing program.

The officials said the horse racing industry in Illinois may be able to learn from the industry in other states.

For example, they said tracks in Louisiana and West Virginia were rescued from financial decline by installing video poker machines on their premises.

Crocker and Baird said the senators were invited to Fairmount so they could be more effective at helping the track stay in business.

"How can they take our position if they aren't familiar with the racing operation itself?" Crocker said.

"What we're trying to do is familiarize our legislators with not only the economic negatives that we're dealing with, but also the positives.

"When this group is educated and sticks together, they are a power to be reckoned with in Springfield," he said. "It is critical that we have help."

Funds OK'd for transit center

Jerry Kane, managing director for Madison County Transit, announced that Madison County Transit will receive federal funding again this year for two projects.

The announcement came at the regular transit board meeting Thursday morning. The funding includes $1.6 million for a transit center to be located in Collinsville, and $1.7 million for bus acquisition.

The funding has been approved by the U.S. House of Representatives, and "I see no problem with the Senate," said Kane.

Kane commented that Congressman Jerry Costello and Richard Durbin have both been very helpful in obtaining the funds.

Chairman Nelson Hagnauer agreed. "I don't think there has ever been any hesitation of support from our congressmen after they see the program," he said.

The board voted to draft a letter of appreciation to the congressmen for their support.

Mark Huffer of Bi-State Development Agency reported that Metro Link did very well during its first year of operation. Metro Link was a year old Aug. 1.

He said July was probably the best month for Metro Link, with about 42,000 each weekday and 50,000 each day of the weekend.

In its initial year, Metro Link carried more than 9 million passengers, and Madison County Transit saw a 24 percent increase in all public transit.

"We saw a little over 40,000 on Labor Day, and with hockey hopefully starting soon, we're looking at a good winter," said Huffer.

Huffer also reported that James B. McGinn replaced Carl Mathias on the Bi-State Board of Commissioners.

In other business, the board agreed to replace the vehicle for the Collinsville Senior Services by leasing it to them.

Kane said this process will be better than outright donating vehicles, because Section 18 funds can be used, which are exclusively for senior services.

"We used to be prohibited from getting them (Section 18 funds), but now we can. I'd like to be an agency these people can come to for Section 18 funds. Then we lease the vehicles to the agencies," said Kane.

Cool Weather's Coming! Time To Bring In The Plants!
here are tips from the experts at

FRANK'S NURSERY & CRAFTS

Where Beautiful Things Begin

October is one of the nicest months of the year. Combine the cool, crisp days and Mother Nature's spectacular annual color show and you have a time of year that many people believe is second to none.

In this part of the country, folks can savor the delights of October while those in Miami or Los Angeles can only read about it. Of course, those Floridians and Californians also read about snow and ice, but you can't win 'em all.

When October ends, however, so does most outdoor enjoyment. And that's why you have to spring into action this month. When the color comes out, the plants come in! At least the ones that can't stand the cold have to.

Any plants you took outside last spring to enjoy on the deck or patio should be brought back inside this month. In addition, you may want to bring some outdoor plants in as well. Wax and tuberous begonias, geraniums, impatiens, caladiums and amaryllis are ideal for bringing indoors.

Before bringing in potted plants, set them on a bench or table and carefully examine for insect or disease problems. Prune off any yellowed leaves, old blooms, or areas that need to be reshaped for the plants indoor location. Next, clean the outside of the pot and the plant. Be sure to solve any insect or insect problems before exposing your other indoor plants to the plant being moved.

The next step is to acclimate the plant to its new home. Choose a very bright location at first and watch for any yellowing leaves. Over the next few weeks, slowly transition the plant to areas with less intense light until it is in its final home. Be especially careful to water the plant as needed during its adjustment period to avoid any added stress.

To bring in a plant that was in the ground outside, simply dig the plant out and pot it. For the easiest results in digging up the plant, water it a day or two before you plan your project. Place the newly potted plant in a shady spot on a table or bench for several days so that it can get used to its new home and you can examine it. Follow the same procedures for examining it and actually bringing it indoors as you would for a potted plant. Remember to keep it moist, as its distribution roots may not be able to absorb water as well as when it was in the ground.

Once the plants are inside, your next consideration is lighting. Light and water are the two biggest factors in the success of indoor plants. If your home lacks a good window for providing light, you might want to try a plant light such as the one Frank's carries by General Electric. It's called Gro & Sho and you can regulate the amount of light your plants receive, even if the natural lighting in your home is quite dim.

There's more you can do with flowers during this glorious time of year and that's drying them. It's a great way to preserve all, and it's not all that difficult. Watch Wednesday's Journal and we'll tell you about it.

Student is seeking donations to attend leadership conference

By Hiley Schulte
Staff writer

Jessica Stiegelmeier of Granite City was recently nominated for selection to attend the National Youth Leadership Conference of the Congressional Youth Leadership Council in Washington, D.C.

However, without donations for the $785 cost of tuition, she might not be able to go. She has been soliciting donations throughout the community from individuals and businesses by sending letters.

In her request, she wrote, "I think it would be a great educational experience for me. By means of donations, to fund tuition fees and costs for the attendance of this conference, not only would I have an exceptional educational opportunity, but you, as a business or civic leader, would have the satisfaction of knowing that you've made an investment into the future of Granite City."

Jessica, a Granite City High School junior, believes the conference would be a great educational opportunity for her. She is involved with cross country, track, the varsity club, science club and foreign language club. She hopes to pursue a medical career after college. She plans to attend St. Louis University.

According to the Congressional Youth Leadership Council, the purpose of the National Youth Leadership Conference (NYLC) is to identify and honor a select group of exceptional high school students for their scholastic achievement and leadership potential and allow them the opportunity to witness history in the making, to meet the leaders of the federal government; and to bring to life the American constitutional process as they hone their leadership skills.

National Scholars will meet with high ranking government officials, members of Congress, representatives of the international diplomatic community, national media figures and prominent scholars.

A number of special functions are planned to honor the scholars, including a presentation on the floor of the House of Representatives and an issue briefing conducted by a senior member of President Clinton's administration.

A special account has been established at Magna Bank Group of Madison County. Proceeds from donations can be made payable to: Jessica Stiegelmeier National Youth Leadership Conference (NYLC) Fund; and mailed to P.O. Box 89, Granite City, IL 62040.

Or, deposits can be made directly to this account at any Magna Bank in Madison County. Each Magna Banking facility had further information about the fund.

Jessica said she has about $45 in donations so far. She plans to continue sending letters soliciting donations.

Deadline for contributions is Oct. 15.

Jessica Stiegelmeier at work at her computer.

Prostate screening offered

St. Elizabeth Medical Center is offering a prostate screening for men age 50 and over.

The screening will be held from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 15, in the Occupational Health Clinic, on the ground floor of the Wolf Medical Building, 204 Madison Ave., Granite City.

The screenings are offered for $5. Registration is required. To register, call SEMC's education resources department at 798-3807.

According to information from the Prostate Cancer Education Council, 200,000 men will develop prostate cancer in 1994. They estimate 33,000 men will die of the cancer. Both numbers are a significant increase over past figures.

"We are pleased to be able to offer both the Prostate Specific Antigen (PSA) blood test as well as the digital exam for a complete examination," said screening coordinator Sue Watkins, RN, BSN, CCRN, community education coordinator in SEMC's education resources department. "This examination enables us to detect cancer in its early curable stages."

The prostate gland is a doughnut-shaped organ located at the base of the bladder in males. As a normal part of the aging process, all men over the age of 50 will experience some prostate problems. These problems can include benign enlargement, infection and cancer.

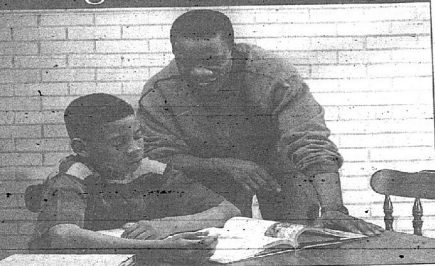

In August 1994, the American Cancer Society recommended that a yearly screening for men should include a PSA test. This should begin by age 50 for most men. The organization feels by combining the PSA test with an examination by a physician, more cancers should be detected at an earlier stage.

Until recently, the PSA test, which measures a protein produced only in the prostate gland, was used to monitor the progress of prostate cancer treatment. However, studies proved the test could detect prostate cancer in seemingly healthy men with no symptoms of prostate cancer. Before the PSA test, only about one out of three prostate cancers were found at the early, curable stage. The test, however, should not replace a yearly physical exam.

The screening will feature examinations by a urologist and a PSA blood test. Information on how to help insure a health future will be available.

For further information, call SEMC's education resources department at 798-3201.

Roxana cited for lunches

ROXANA — The Roxana School District's food service program is one of the best in the Midwest, according to the federal government. The Roxana School District has won one of the U.S. Department of Agriculture Food and Nutrition Service's 1994 Best Practices Awards for the Midwest Region. The region comprises thousands of school districts in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin. The award recognizes the district's efforts to meet dietary guidelines. "We're extremely pleased," Superintendent James Herndon said. "We've always felt that (food service Director) Regina Chappell and her staff put out an excellent lunch program."

Chappell said she was excited by the honor. "We're trying to do a lot about nutrition education in the schools. It takes a lot of work to help (pupils) make the right choices," she said. Best Practices Awards are bestowed annually in seven categories. Agriculture Department spokesman Lawrence Rudmann said Roxana was the only Illinois school district honored. As a regional award winner, Roxana is eligible for one of the national awards to be announced during National School Lunch Week, Oct. 10. The district held two workshops to educate food service staff on new dietary guidelines, recipe adjustments and marketing methods.

Irene Barnhart

Irene J. (Billevy) Barnhart, 86, of Pacific, Mo., formerly of Poochont, Ill., died 11 p.m. Friday, Sept. 30, 1994, at St. Joseph Hospital in Kirkwood, Mo.

Born April 9, 1908, in Roby, Mo., she had resided in Granite City for 40 years, and had been a resident of Pacific since 1981. A homemaker, she was a member of Central Christian Church in Granite City, Bluff Church in Edwardsville, and Royal Neighbors in Poochont.

Survivors include her husband, Samuel E. Barnhart, whom she married on Oct. 24, 1975; one son, Elmer Clinton Barnhart of Hillsboro, Ill.; one brother, Barry Billevy of Carle, Ill.; two sisters, Vernette Lowery and Debra Harrison, both of Granite City; seven grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her first husband, Henry Elmer; one son, William Ralph Barnhart; and her parents, Clayton Frederick and Ida Olive (Berry) Billevy.

Visitation is from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. today at Irwin Chapel, 3969 Maryville Road, 931-8000. Graveside services for Monday, Oct. 3, are pending. Burial will be in Sunset Hill Memorial Estates, Glen Carbon. Memorials are suggested for the American Cancer Society.

George Miller

George L. Miller, 88, of Granite City, died at 2:20 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 29, 1994, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center after a six-month illness.

He was born Nov. 18, 1905, in Dent County, Mo., and had been a resident of Granite City for several years.

Mr. Miller was a foundry worker with Granite City Steel for 17 years prior to his retirement in 1967. Survivors include one brother, Claude Miller of Granite City; several nephews, nieces, great-nephews, great-nieces, great-grandnephews and great-grandnieces.

He was preceded in death by his parents, George and Emma (Burris) Miller; three brothers, Bill, Frank and Henry Miller; three sisters, Myrtle Miller, Emma Miller, and Stella Jones; and one half brother, Elmer Miller.

Services were held Saturday at Irwin Chapel, Granite City, with the Rev. Allen Ristoff officiating. Burial was in Lake View Memorial Gardens, Fairview Heights.

President

He and his wife, Shirley, are both natives of Chicago. Rice, 50, had been president of the Suburban Journals since 1990. He came to the organization in 1983 as general manager.

Rice, who has 30 years' experience in the newspaper industry, was formerly a vice president with the Chicago

Johnson, 51, replaces Rick Jarvis, who was selected by Natolin as the new general manager of the Journals' St. Charles and North County divisions.

Johnson came to the Journals as an account executive in 1976 and quickly became an advertising manager. He has directed advertising efforts for the Journals and Jefferson County, Mo.

is not the question. We fully support, assist, and applaud any and all government officials, regardless of political affiliation, when they do an outstanding job. But loyalty must remain a major component of our political process. Otherwise, we lose total credibility," the statement says. Hawkins has called for Hawkins to resign her post.

"Democratic voters in her precinct elected her to support Democrats endorsed by the party," Davis said.

"If she won't do the job she was elected to do, she should resign," Davis said.

Hawkins said she has no intention of resigning her committeeman post.

"I have no intention to resign. That's the dumbest thing I've ever heard of," Hawkins said.

"As an American citizen, I have the right to back whatever candidate I want regardless of party affiliation," she said.

"I just feel like (Shimkus) is the first worthy Republican candidate to come along since I became a committeeman," she said.

Carner said that calling for Knott's resignation from the county board would "probably be a little drastic," but that he thinks Knott should come clean about his party affiliation.

"If he's going to be a Republican, he should be a Republican."

If he's going to be a Democrat, he should be a Democrat.

"As a precinct committeeman, you are elected to support the candidates the people elected in the primary to represent their party," Carner said of Knott, a former committeeman.

Knott was not upset over Carner's statement.

"Everybody knows I'm a Democrat and when I run again I'll run as a Democrat. It's hard to believe people in Madison County want to take someone out of office (Shimkus) who has done such an outstanding job... Mick didn't do the job the first time and John has done a fantastic job," Knott said.

Trial

Lott said she saw Coleman and his cousin at a nightclub about 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

She claimed Coleman, whom she has known for several years, had repeatedly asked her to testify that she saw him at the nightclub between 10:30 and 11 p.m. the night of the killings.

On Thursday, Lott was assisted by Duane Bailey of the Madison County state's attorney's office, called Lott to the stand as a rebuttal witness.

Hildebrand had listed Lott as a potential witness for Coleman, but decided not to call her to the stand.

"He has talked to me several times talking with me," she said. "He always asks me to say I saw him at the club between (10:30 and 11 p.m.). He asked me the night of the murders."

When Jensen asked if Coleman's behavior was unusual at the nightclub, Lott replied, "He's usually a jolly and happy person. He wasn't so happy and jolly that night."

Coleman's grandmother, Henrietta Washington, had testified Wednesday that Coleman was at her house until nearly 10 p.m. the night of the murders.

Lott, who works at a tavern in Madison, said she saw Coleman at the bar talking with the victims the night before they were murdered.

"I saw Coleman at the bar with maybe two or more people I didn't know," she said. "He was talking to the (victims)."

Lott also said she saw Coleman leave the bar in a dark-colored mini-van.

Several witnesses, including victim Jeff Mosby's girlfriend, said they saw a green mini-van leaving the scene of the murders.

Police traced a green mini-van to Towns, whose fingerprints were also found on duct tape used to bind the victims.

In other testimony Thursday, Williams' girlfriend, Latonya Beison, claimed Williams was at home with her at the time of the murders.

Beison said Towns came over to her house about 3 p.m. Nov. 17 and dropped off a green mini-van. She claims Williams went to bed and did not leave the house until the next day.

More than 30 spectators, friends and relatives of both the defendants and victims, have sat through the two-week trial.

Madison County Sheriff Bob Churchich had said Thursday he planned to beef up security at the courthouse when the jury returns a verdict, but declined to elaborate.

Two spectators were ejected from the courthouse Wednesday after they exchanged words in the hallway outside the courtroom.

Madison County Associate Judge J. Lawrence Keshner, who presided over the trial, warned spectators that they would be held in contempt of court if they caused a disturbance.

decided to have it in October to give them one last shot at playing golf," Varady said.

The tournament will be a four-man scramble, with either golfers setting up the foursome or OATH. A donation of $35 per person includes entry fee, beverage card and dinner.

Varady said many OATH clients attend the tournament and dinner afterwards.

She expects more attendance this year. "A golf tournament usually takes a number of years to get going," she said.

Fifty people participated in the first golf tournament, and the group's goal is to attract that many golfers annually. For more information, call 876-3178.

Environmental firm opens office

DYB Environmental Systems recently opened an office serving the Tri-City area. The office is owned by Dwayne Pritchett, a lifelong resident of Granite City.

DYB Environmental Systems specializes in solving environmental problems such as Sick Building Syndrome, chemical removal from water, lime scale buildup in water lines and boilers and helping to meet OSHA regulations for water and air. The business can meet the needs of residential, office, commercial and light industrial environmental problems.

Pritchett has been trained as an environmental specialist. He is also active in the community through his work in the Boy Scouts of America.

The office is seeking qualified people to represent the business as customer service representatives and account executives.

Doctor joins SEMC staff

Dr. Ben Painter, a specialist in internal medicine and infectious disease, has joined the medical staff at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Painter will be seeing patients with internist Dr. Lawrence Harmon.

Painter completed his undergraduate degree at Colgate University in Hamilton, N.Y. and received his medical degree from the University of Missouri in Columbia. He served an internship and residency in internal medicine at Jewish Hospital in St. Louis, and completed a fellowship with the Division of Infectious Diseases at Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis.

Painter is board certified in internal medicine. He is board eligible in the subspecialty of infectious diseases.

He will be seeing patients in suite 17 of the Wolf Medical Building, 2044 Madison Ave., Granite City. For an appointment, call 876-4700. He will also see patients at the Collinsville Health Center, 800 St. Louis Road, Collinsville. For an appointment in the Collinsville office, call 344-0432.

Named to business Who's Who

Walter R. Gorski, president and chief executive officer of Midwest Title Insurance Inc., was recently notified that his name will be included in the 1994-95 Who's Who Registry of Business Leaders.

Gorski said that he was informed of his nomination in November 1993, but only recently was notified of his inclusion by Who's Who Worldwide Board of Public Affairs.

"Yes, I'm honored and, yes, I'm proud," Gorski said. "What I'm most proud of and thankful for, however, are our hard working and dedicated staffs, my partner George Edwards and a very understanding family without whose love and support this honor would not be possible."

Besides his duties at Midwest Title, Gorski is also president of E.H.G. Holding Corporation, chairman of M.P.S. Mortgage Company, Inc., area vice president of the Home Builders' Association of Illinois and a facilitator for The Alternative Board, TAB for southern Illinois.

Pathologist on hospital staff

Pathologist Dr. Dolph Haegge has joined the medical staff at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Haegge grew up in Nashville, Ill., and is very familiar with southwestern Illinois. He completed his undergraduate degree at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. He received his medical degree from the University of Illinois College of Medicine in Peoria, and served an internship in pathology at the University of Missouri Hospital in Columbia. He also served a residency in anatomic and clinical pathology at the University of Missouri Hospital, where he was chief resident last year. He has a fellowship with the College of American Pathologists and the American Society of Clinical Pathologists.

Haegge is board eligible in pathology. He is a member of the Missouri State Medical Association and the American Medical Association.

He can be reached by calling the SEMC Pathology Department at 798-3504.

Estate planning need not be complicated

This is the 10th article in a series entitled "Making Sense of Your Money."

The next several weeks of articles concern the establishment of a comprehensive estate plan — an important element in your financial planning that you should not be without.

Estate planning is the process of organizing your financial and personal interests, in accordance with prevailing laws, so that your wishes are met with a minimum of inconvenience and expense to your family. Estate planning also can assure that your estate incurs the minimum possible estate tax.

Effective estate planning need not be complicated. It has several straightforward objectives, including:

- Minimizing the problems and expenses of probate; to avoid potential family conflicts, where possible; and to pass on your estate in accordance with your wishes.

- Providing your spouse with as much responsibility and flexibility in estate management as desired, consistent with potential tax savings.

- Providing for the conservation of your estate and its effective management following the death of either or both spouses.

- Minimizing taxes at the time of death as well as estate taxes after death.

- Avoiding leaving the children too much too soon.

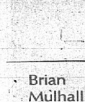

- Providing for adequate liquidity to cover taxes and other expenses at death without the necessity of a forced sale of assets.

- Providing for estate management in the event of the incapacity of either spouse.

- Organizing all important papers affecting your estate plan in a location known to all family members and to review them at least annually.

Informing all family members about the overall estate plan.

Chief among estate planning matters is a will, but other documents are also important. Many people do not complete even the most basic estate planning documents, nor do they revise their estate plan to reflect changes in personal circumstances or new laws and regulations.

Even though you may have prepared an estate plan in the past, either your estate or your attitude toward it may have changed since you last reviewed it. Some very important questions need answering.

Have you had any children or grandchildren since you last revised your will? Have any of

A reason for this may be a general reluctance to confront the fact that we are all mortal. While it is unpleasant to contemplate the possibility of our own demise, it is far more satisfying to know that our affairs have been put in order and that our children have been taken care of.

Beyond these basics, there are several more sophisticated estate planning techniques of which you should be aware, and you do not have to be wealthy to take advantage of them.

Even though you may have prepared an estate plan in the past, either your estate or your attitude toward it may have changed since you last reviewed it. Some very important questions need answering.

your intended heirs died, married, divorced or become disabled since your last will was prepared? If so, these events may require a revision of your estate planning documents.

It is certainly worth the time and expense to review an out-of-date estate plan; you will sleep more soundly, and your heirs will benefit from your foresight.

Future articles will address the following estate planning documents: will, durable power of attorney, living will, letter of instruction, selection of an executor, guardianship for children, lifetime gifting and revocable and irrevocable living trusts.

Niedringhaus church holds homecoming

On Sunday, Sept. 18, the congregation of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church held its annual homecoming. But this year's event was extra special because this is the church's centennial year. Members and guests joined together to celebrate 100 years of serving Christ in Granite City.

The morning began with a fellowship time in the church parlor. Coffee, juice and pastries were served. Many members acted as greeters to welcome members and guests.

The worship service began at 10:30 a.m. with 206 worshippers in attendance. Former pastors and wives were introduced. They were Rev. and Mrs. Roy Baugh, Jeanne Sims and Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Totten. Also introduced were special guests Rev. and Mrs. Jim Townsend, district superintendent Ray Porter and Bishop David Lawson.

Rev. K. Bruce Rushing led the service and John Walter, associate pastor, presented the children's sermon. An uplifting sermon entitled "What is Greatness" was given by Bishop Lawson. Rev. Ray Porter pronounced the benediction.

During the service, Dorothy Davis presented the centennial moment on Christian education. A special hymn entitled "In This House," written for the centennial, was sung by the congregation. The words were written by Katherine Wood with music written by Carolyn Jenkins, the church choir director.

Members of 50 or more years were honored. Those presented with certificates of appreciation were:

Juanita Brown, Dorothy Frohardt, Walter Klein, Frankie Lerch and Geneva Miller, 79 years; Waldo Frohardt and Virginia Segar, 77 years; Clara Huber, 74 years; Eva Miller, 72 years; Dolores Allen, 69 years; Marie Klein and Ernest Roulard, 68 years; Calvin Compton, 67 years; Fred Bollinger and Rebecca Slate, 65 years; Garnet McGovern, 64 years; Dorothy Whitmer, 63 years; Dorothy Allen and Velma McIlvoy, 61 years; Woodie Lynn, 60 years; Ted and Ruby Overbeck and Mary Skyes, 59 years; Newell Darnier, Robert Roulard and Clarence Stallings, 58 years; Shirley Loy, 56 years; Leona Cartwright, 55 years; Pat Schmierbach, 54 years; Lynn Allen, Dick Brown and Dolores Vogler, 53 years; Joyce Albers and Earl Miller, 52 years; and Ida Carliss and Charlotte Tempel, 51 years.

New members since the 1993 homecoming were also given certificates. They are Nancy and Randy Byrd, Pam and Tim Filkins, Chris and Mike Ribbing, Vickie Freed, Sandy Jacobs, Rosemary Stewart and Mike Wilmore.

On display in the sanctuary was a quilted wall hanging made by members Susan Kleindorfer, Carolyn Jenkins, Cary Embick, Judy Lieurance and Warren Jones. It features symbols of the former and current church buildings. A centennial banner was made by Mary Ann Reid.

Calvin Johnson CARE CENTER

When my own home was no longer an option, I was glad Calvin Johnson Care Center was there for me. I receive the help I need from friendly, qualified staff. I can still go home for short visits, which I enjoy, but I'm always ready to come back because I feel safe and secure.

Sincerely,

Green schools — All nine Granite City elementary schools were recently presented Earth Flags for successfully reducing waste and initiating recycling activities in their buildings last year under guidelines set forth by the Illinois State Office of Energy and Natural Resources. Through a grant from the ENR-47, schools in Madison County participated in the project and 32 completed all necessary requirements to receive a flag. Solidarity Labor Jam hosts event showcasing working class culture

The Solidarity Labor Jam will sponsor a musical event centered around the lives and culture of the working class Oct. 16. It will start at 1 p.m. and is expected to last about six hours at the Gaslight Bath and Tennis Club in Collinsville.

The Gaslight Bath and Tennis Club is owned and operated by the Miners Institute — a historic preservation group organized to refurbish and operate the Miners Theater. The theater was constructed in the early 1900s as a meeting hall and social center by United Mine Workers locals.

Performers, who are from a variety of occupations, will play musical instruments, portray historic characters, read poetry, etc. These people work as electricians, in packing houses, aluminum plants, steel mills, auto plants, defense plants, and one is a medical doctor. There will even be a few professional musicians.

The purpose of the event is to promote the culture of the working class in the arts. The Labor Jam does this through a variety of means. Although they focus primarily on music — visual arts, poetry, dramatic readings, historical excerpts and many other means are used.

The group is sponsored and endorsed by a broad group of local and national labor and cultural groups, including Greater Madison County Federation of Labor (Illinois); Greater St. Louis Labor Council, USWA District 34, Lee County Federation of Labor (Iowa); LaborVision (a labor oriented news program produced in St. Louis); the Great Midwest Labor Jam (a Port Madison, IA group which inspired the local organization); and the Labor Heritage Foundation (Washington, D.C.).

The special guest performer will be Kenny Winfree, an IAM member from Lebanon, Tenn., who plays bluegrass music with a union flavor. Kenny has released a tape of working class and union songs called "Blue Collar Bluegrass". Between Kenny's two sets, the format on stage will be a "jam," in which any performer is encouraged to do their thing.

A $5 donation is requested. Unemployed and striking workers and their families will not be asked to donate. Proceeds of this event will support striking and locked out workers and their families from the Decatur area, employees of A.E. Staley, Firestone and Caterpillar.

Saints Alive group travels to Branson

Maxine Green covers the Granite City and Nameoki Township area for the Press-Record Journal. She can be contacted at 931-6256.

The Madison County Baptist Association group, Saints Alive, left the Baptist Center Sept. 14 for Branson, Mo., where they stayed for two nights at the Lighthouse Inn.

On the way, they stopped at a McDonald's for breakfast and later ate lunch at Picadilly Cafe in Springfield, Mo. After arriving at the motel around 1:30 p.m., they went to the Shoji Tabuchi Theater, which is decorated to please tourists. The restrooms were the "talk of the town." The group then saw a show before going to the Golden Corral Restaurant for dinner. After dinner, they attended the Mel Tillis show.

Friday morning, they headed back home, stopping at McDonald's for breakfast and Shoney's for lunch. The group arrived at the Baptist Center at 2:30 p.m. Dr. Wilkinson was the coordinator of the trip.

The Ruth Sunday school class of the Calvary Baptist Church, led by Van to Godfrey on Monday and ate lunch at Josephine's Tea Room. Members enjoying the country-side view and lunch were Pat Wallis, Louise Sullivan, Virginia Buschel, Phyllis Knight, Ruth Dagon, Dorothy Watkins, Lois Byers, Norma Ross, teacher Pauline Weir and bus driver Dalphine Kinder.

The Senior Plus group will leave Central Hardware in Alton at 7 p.m. Oct. 4 headed for Metropolis, where they will board one of the largest riverboats in the Midwest and enjoy a

Drum majors earn awards at clinic

Granite City Marching Warriors drum majors Mandy Morlen, Dean Justus and Kerl Cahill participated in the Smith-Walbridge Drum Major Clinic at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Each of the drum majors received special recognition awards for various aspects of the clinic, including marching and salutes.

The clinic drew high school and college participants from Illinois and neighboring states for a week-long study of marching techniques and showmanship. On the final day of the clinic, exhibitions and closing ceremonies were held with family members and friends attending. The Granite City drum majors were members of the squad that won a number of competitions at the closing ceremonies.

St. Elizabeth's Hospital of Belleville

Students can take PSAT at high school Oct. 11

Granite City Senior High sophomores and juniors will have an opportunity on Oct. 11 to take the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT NMSQT).

The PSAT NMSQT measures verbal and math reasoning abilities important to doing college work. The test includes two 30-minute verbal sections and two 30-minute math sections, according to Sheryl Evans, a counselor at Granite City High School.

The PSAT NMSQT gives students the opportunity to qualify for scholarship recognition and for enrichment programs, including merit scholarships, achievement scholarships and the National Hispanic Scholar Recognition program.

Students may register before school for the PSAT NMSQT from Oct. 6 through 7. A $9 fee is payable at the time of registration.

It is recommended, but optional, that students bring calculators to the test site. Any four-function, scientific or graphing calculator is permitted. However, students may not use calculators with paper tape or printers, "hand-held" minicomputers, pocket organizers or laptop computers.

Students who wish to take the PSAT NMSQT should have a grade-point average of 4.0 or higher.

The test will begin at 7:30 a.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 11.

Legion Auxiliary Junior Group installs officers in Venice

Venice-Madison Unit 307 American Legion Auxiliary Junior Group held its meeting Sept. 19 at the Post 307 home in Venice. Lunch was served to 15 persons.

Officers were installed. Dorothy Hinson was the installing officer. Connie Ballard was the installing sergeant-at-arms and Rose Moreland was the installing chaplain. The following officers were installed:

Megan Miller, president; Rhonda Ballard, vice president; Chelsey Peery, secretary; Cathy Moreland, chaplain; Jenna Miller, historian; and Laura Martin, sergeant-at-arms. Chelsey Peery, sergeant-at-arms, was in the hospital and will be installed at the next meeting. Christie Ballard, retiring president, was presented with a gift from the group.

The members participated in the Veterans Affairs and Rehabilitation program during the last year by making trays for and other items for veterans in the hospitals and nursing homes. Home service cards were given to the following for their hours of work in this activity:

Melissa Allen, Melis Anderson,

Carrie Baker, Rhonda Ballard, Christina Ballard, Amanda Foley, Megan Harper, Megan Miller, Jenna Miller, Laura Martin, Catherine Moreland, Chelsey Peery, Kaleigh Peery, Amber Singleton and Ashley Singleton.

Plans were discussed to attend the 22nd District junior meeting to be held Oct. 8 at the Belleville Freedom Farm. Christie Ballard will be installed as district junior president and Megan Miller will be the junior district historian. Plans were also discussed for a trip to the Marion Veterans Administration Nursing Home for a bingo with the Fifth Division juniors on Oct. 15.

It was decided to have a candy bar sale as a special money maker this year.

The Unit 307 junior regular meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Oct. 10 at Post 307. Those attending were Melissa Allen, Carrie Baker, Rhonda Ballard, Christie Ballard, Megan Harper, Laura Martin, Jenna Miller, Megan Miller, Cathy Moreland, Chelsey Peery and Doris Baker, Connie Ballard, Rose Moreland and Debbie Miller.

The Madison County Legal Secretaries Association will host the annual Bosses' Night on Tuesday, Oct. 4, at the Sunset Hills Country Club in Edwardsville. Cocktails are at 6:30 p.m. with dinner to follow at 7:30 p.m.

The theme of this year's event is "That's a Wrap." The 1994-95 Bosses of the Year and Secretary of the Year will be announced. The 23rd annual Bosses' Night is open to everyone in the legal field, including judges, attorneys, legal secretaries, support

Diabetes class at St. Elizabeth's

Are you a diabetic? "You are not alone," said Kathy Haarmann, RN, BSN, and certified diabetes educator. "There is no cure for diabetes, but there is a lot of information available that can help diabetics lead full lives and avoid further complications."

Haarmann, the patient education coordinator at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, will be part of the teaching team in a free "Take Charge of Your Diabetes" class offered at SEMC.

The class will be held from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 19, in the Milonski Room, on the lower level, at SEMC.

The medical center is located at 2100 Madison Ave. in Granite City.

The class will include a general overview of diabetes, symptoms, diabetes management, exercise, testing and complications of the condition.

A registered dietitian will present nutrition information related to diabetes, including information on sweeteners, fiber, label reading and fast foods. A pharmacist will speak on medications, including insulin and oral agents.

The class is free, however, space is limited. Preregistration is required.

Friends host party for Sbabo

Kathy Dohnal covers the Madison-Venice scene for the Press-Record Journal. Articles can be sent to 2108 Lynch or she can be contacted at 787-2077.

The following is a recipe submitted by Jeannie Weidner for the weekly recipe swap:

Cheesecake pie
2 large packages cream cheese
3 large eggs
¼ tsp. almond extract
½ cup sugar
Beat well until creamy, pour into pie pan and bake for 35 minutes at 225 degrees in a glass pan (350 degrees in a metal pan). Take out of the oven for 10 minutes. Add together one small container of sour cream, two tablespoons sugar and ¼ teaspoon vanilla. Pour on baked mixture and bake again for 10 minutes at 300 degrees. Make sure the cake is tan around the edge after the first baking.

Susan and Tim Moser of Arnold, Mo., are announcing the birth of their first child, a daughter. Aileen Elizabeth Moser was born July 25, 1994, at St. Mary's Hospital in Clayton, Mo. She

Eagles Auxiliary to honor Aerie grand president

The Eagles Auxiliary 1126 held its first meeting of September with President Ann Pates opening the meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. There were 31 members in attendance.

Vincine Zerlan, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved by the membership. "Fuzz" Hagnauer, membership chairman, reported one new initiate to be enrolled. Zerlan reported three new applications for membership.

The "Draping of the Charter" ceremony was performed by Barbara Modrusic, junior past president; Connie Mott, vice president; Millie Weatherford, chaplain; Vera Johnson, conductor; and Pates in remembrance of Helen Frazier, a 30-year member who passed away recently.

Sandra Hahn, ways and means chairman, reported that $1,566.70 was collected with a road block in September. The funds will be given to charities. On Oct. 4, E.L. "Bud" Collett, Eagle Aerie grand worthy president, and his wife, Connie, were to be honored at a dinner on their official visit. Music and entertainment by Johnny Reed followed the dinner.

Pates announced Eagles Auxiliary 1126 and Eagle Aerie will co-sponsor a chicken and dumpling dinner and television raffie from noon to 6 p.m. Oct. 23. Proceeds will go to the kidney fund. Adults are $5, children at $2.50. Children under five will be free. For tickets or other information, call Sue Allen, kidney fund chairman.

Del Deloney, 1994-95 auxiliary mother, was honored at a birthday party that followed the Sept. 27 meeting. Candidates were also initiated at this meeting. Evalene Ederle, bingo chairman, will hold the first bingo of the season at the Nameeki Bingo Center at 1 p.m. Oct. 9. Captains and volunteer workers will meet following this meeting.

Joanna Spencer reported the escort team canceled the September card party. It has been rescheduled for 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Oct. 19 at the Eagles home, 2558 Madison Ave., Granite City. The party is open to the public. The cost is $2.50 per person.

Vera Johnson, alzheimer's chairman, thanked everyone for their participation with her recent bake sale and chicken and dumpling sale. Zerlan reported that "No Goose Bag" sticker has been received for the chart from the Aerie for the month of July.

Zerlan announced that next year's convention will be held June 22-25 in Moline at the Holiday Inn. For reservations and further information, call Zerlan. Well-wishers ads are available for $1. Contact Zerlan to place an ad in the convention book.

Barbara Modrusic, junior past president, announced she has "leprechaun sweat shirts" for the state project for sale. The cost is $15 and must be ordered from her or Cucco.

Sandra Hahn, visiting chairman pro-tem, reported Jack and Margaret Roundtree, Wanda Trent, Elmer Deloney (Del's husband) and Boots Stanton were all in the hospital. A moment of silent prayer for famous Aerie volunteer cook Gary Melvov was held. He passed away Sept. 11.

Decatur Auxiliary 507 invited all members to attend its state officer appreciation weekend, which was to be held Sept. 30 through Oct. 2. Prizes were won by Connie Mott and Pam Benefield. Refreshments were served by hostesses Martha Simpson, Sandra Hahn, Sharon Landon and Spencer. A social hour followed.

Gospel group to sing at New Life

The Gospel singing group "Heartbeat" will appear in concert at New Life Assembly of God Church, Faith and Buxton avenues, at 7 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 8. Pastor Ed Shermwell invites all gospel music lovers to attend.

Eagles Auxiliary
Everett L. "Bud" Collett, New Port Richey, Fla., Grand Worthy President of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, will make an official visit to the Granite City Aerie 1326 on Tuesday, Oct. 4, according to Kenneth E. Spencer, secretary of the host Aerie.

Collett was elected to that post at the order's national convention in Spokane, Wash. He brings to the office, years of fraternal service and a clear cut vision of what he wants to achieve in the coming year.

Despite his having served as local president and trustee of his home Aerie 3153, all chairs in the state Aerie and on through the Grand Aerie posts and now, the highest office, he is modest about titles. He wants, he says, "to serve the order in any way he can."

When state president Florida won the designation of a bell ringer, an Eagle tribute to leadership, an increase in new Aeries and new members and activities.

Collett came to St. Petersburg from Logansport in 1941. He served in the Maritime Service during World War II and afterward became a member of the St. Petersburg Fire Department from which he retired.

Collett is aware of the need to accept fire prevention. He cites particularly the tragic loss of lives in home fires due to children playing with matches or the careless smoking habits of adults. He is proud to point out that the Eagles National Memorial Foundation, long ago, added health and educational benefits for the children of Eagle firemen and policemen who lost their lives while on duty.

Collett and his wife, Connie, have one son, daughter-in-law, four grandchildren and one great-grandchild. He and Connie will travel throughout the continental United States and Canada during the coming year in the interests of Eagledom.

Evening Circle
The Evening Circle of First Presbyterian Church met in the home of Gladys Pape. Chairman Betty Schmiedake opened the meeting with prayer and introduced new study material, "Who is the Christ?" This question provides the main focus of the study. The goal of this important consideration is to experience the transforming power of Christ in our lives; to grow as faithful disciples; to discover ways in which Christ can change our ways of living and to renew the spirits as we seek to shape the world.

The minutes were read by secretary Bette Rea. Reports were given. A thank-you note was read from Protestant Welfare acknowledging the circle's contribution to their "back-to-school" program. Final plans were discussed for a birthday party on Sept. 29 for the residents of Colonnades Nursing Home.

It was announced that plans for the annual bazaar are uncertain due to the recent fire at the church.

Members were reminded of the Cahokia Mounds tour on Oct. 22. The group will leave the parking lot of the church at 9:30 a.m.

Fellowship of the Least Coin monies were collected by Barbara Landis, who led the group in prayer. The month yearbook of the group was given by June Jones remembering the Foothills Presbyterian in South Carolina.

The lesson "Image of the Resurrected Jesus" was presented by Betty Schmiedake and asked the question "What does it mean today to follow the risen Christ whose identity is Jesus of Nazareth?" Scripture from Romans 1:3-6 was used in the lesson. A discussion followed.

The gathering closed as the members formed a circle and repeated the Mizpah. Refreshments were served by the hostesses Gladys Fuhrman, Eurdine Holtzcher, June Jones, Barbara Landis, Bette Rea, Betty Schmiedake and Shirley Yates.

Old Six Mile meeting set
The monthly meeting of the Old Six Mile Historical Society will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 3, at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, Granite City.

The history of the Niedringhaus Methodist Church will be given by Waldo Frohardt. Elmer Stille will be the auctioneer for a "Fun White Elephant Sale and Auction."

Lillian Delp, Freda Burgdorf and Ruth Jensen will serve refreshments.

Beta Sigma Phi
September meetings of Omicron Master Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi were held in the homes of Evelyn Tolliver and Ruth Stoyanoff.

President Lora Mae Lombardi welcomed one guest, Stephanie Kowalewski. Plans were discussed for the coming year. Reports were made on the summer socials. A report on the recent Beginning Day with Edwardsville City Council was also presented.

A retirement party for Imogene Forrest, who recently retired from the Granite City School District, was held following the first meeting. At the first meeting, Pat Tsiglaroff presented a program on Japan. At the second meeting, Lombardi told of life in China.

Members of the chapter include Bas Brackett, Joyce Alexander, Delores Dorich, Juanita Calve, Alice Konecny, Arlene Haldeman and those previously mentioned.

Temperance Union
The September meeting of the Granite City Union of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held Monday, Sept. 26, in the fellowship hall of the Central Free Methodist Church in Pontoon Beach.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Vera Lynn. The song "America" was sung by the group and the pledges to the American, Christian and Temperance flags were given. A devotional was given by Doris Brown, who emphasized the need to pray for the youth of the land. The directors of the different departments gave a brief statement concerning the work of their department. Lynn spoke of the evils of gambling.

The group welcomed two new members to the Granite City Union, Clifton Thomas and the Rev. Bobby Samuel.

The 120th convention of the Illinois Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the First Church of the Nazarene in Springfield Oct. 18 and 19. Some from the Granite City Union will attend.

Refreshments were served by Ann Thomas. The October meeting will be a prayer breakfast at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 29, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Finley of Glen Carbon.

Legion Auxiliary
Venice-Madison Unit 307 American Legion Auxiliary held its meeting on Sept. 12 at Post 307 in Venice. Hostesses for lunch were Kate Buechle and Jane Modrusic, who served 23 members.

Joyce Pittenger, auxiliary emergency fund chairman, collected for this fund. It was voted to collect for this until December. Then the collection will be sent for the department president's special project from January to June. This is the "Make A Wish" Foundation for Illinois.

Bette Nugent, community service chairman, announced a bingo was held on Sept. 8 at the Colonial Haven Care Center and was to be held Sept. 15 at Colonnades.

Announcement was made that the junior group officers were to be installed Sept. 19. Members were invited to attend. Norma Hillmer, membership chairman, reported that the group is over 100 dues into the department.

The membership party will be held at 7 p.m. on Oct. 3. This will be a pot luck dinner.

A donation was made to the American Cancer Society and to the Gateway Area Chapter of Multiple Sclerosis. The attendance prize was won by Judy Modrusic.

Dorothy Hinson, V.A. & R. chairman, announced the trip to the Marion Veterans of Administration Nursing Home and the Haven was to be held Sept. 24. Final plans were made for this activity. The trip to the Illinois Veterans Home in Quincy will be on Saturday, Oct. 22.

The next meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Oct. 3 at the Post 307 American Legion Home in Venice.

Eta Alumnae
The regular monthly luncheon meeting of the Eta Alumnae Chapter was held Sept. 7 at Charlie's Restaurant, hosted by Helen Hoelscher and Celestine Lucas.

Eleven members attended the party. After lunch, cards were played and prizes were won by Irene Hayes, Ruby Overbeck, Mary Lou Tomick, Van Stuart, Marguerite Lexow and Dorothy Johannigmeier.

Others attending were Mildred Juengels, Bessie Tatum and Melba Baroff.

The next meeting will be hosted by Dorothy Johannigmeier and Irene Hayes on Oct. 5 at Charlie's Restaurant.

American Legion
Venice-Madison Post 307 American Legion and Auxiliary took a bus trip to the Marion Veterans Administration Hospital and Nursing Home and the Haven on Crab Orchard Lake on Sept. 24. Veterans residing in the nursing home enjoyed musical programs and jokes by the Edgewood Opry Band from Edgewood, Ill. Refreshments of homemade cookies, bananas, cheese crackers and punch, were served to all. Members took playing cards, crossword puzzle boards, paperback books, jigsaw puzzles, lap robes and wheelchair pillows to be used by both facilities, nursing home and hospital.

Post 307 members visited with patients in the hospital and presented each with a pair of socks. Refreshments were served in the recreation room for those who wanted some.

Following the program and visits, the group traveled to the Haven on Crab Orchard Lake for supper and a visit. Participating in this day for the veterans besides Venice-Madison Post 307 were five units from the 23rd District, Farina, St. Peter, Effingham, St. Elmo and Edgewood.

Those attending from Venice-Madison were Joyce Pittenger, Margaret Nomm, Pauline Messenger, Mary Frances Hellingner, Dolores Weis, Dora Wagner, Chris Bargiel, Lotetta Bargiel, Stanley Bargiel, Anne Lapinski, Stan Lapinski, Doris Zigler, Albert Zigler, Norma Hillmer, Hank Hillmer, Betty Wallace, Rose Cooper, Nadine Myatt, Webb Myatt, LeVera Johnson, Elberta Cias and Dorothy Hinson.

The Venice-Madison 307 next bus trip will be Saturday, Oct. 22, to the Illinois Veterans Home in Quincy. Chairman for these affairs is Hinson, who is co-chairman for the veterans affairs and rehabilitation program of the auxiliary.

Edwardsville High fullback Jon Cross set a personal high with 276 yards and four touchdowns, and the visiting Tigers turned an early battle into a rout in Friday's 49-13 victory over Granite City.

Cross, who scored on runs of 74, 57 and 46 yards, had 209 yards in the first half as the Tigers raced to a 35-7 lead. The senior standout teamed with halfback Mark Thomas to lead a running game that overwhelmed the Warriors in the second quarter.

AFTER BOTH TEAMS scored on their opening drives, Edwardsville struck for four straight touchdowns. Thomas started off the scoring binge with a 58-yard touchdown, and Cross ended it by scoring on a 12-yard pass from quarterback Jim Dougherty to give Edwardsville a 35-7 lead with 1:01 left in the half.

Cross, a former quarterback, found plenty of holes courtesy of Edwardsville's offensive line as the Tigers improved to 4-2 and kept the Warriors (0-6) winless. "Jon had some real nice runs," Edwardsville coach Tim Dougherty said. "He did a great

Team-by-team capsules

The following is a brief look at each team competing in the Granite

City Tournament of Champions this week:

GROUP A

Vianney

The Golden Griffins have won the last three tournament titles and own an impressive 15-game winning streak at the Gauntlet. But coach Mike Villa's team lost several key starters to graduation, including 1993 tournament MVP Casey Kippel.

After a rough start this season, Vianney got past the 500 mark Thursday with a 10 win over Hazelwood Central and stood at 7-1 heading into Saturday night's game against SLUH. The Griffins have been led in scoring by Todd Valdez, who has three goals on the season.

Vianney made it to the championship game of the CYC Bob Guelker Tournament last week before losing 5-0 to CBC. Villa called it the worst loss in Vianney history.

"We came together a little better," Villa said. "It was a wake-up in the night.

This week will be another major test for us. Hopefully we'll command a little respect and we won't embarrass ourselves."

Francis Howell North

The Knights (13-3-1) enter their third year in the tournament after placing fourth in last week's Hazelwood Central Invitational. Howell North advanced to the semifinals before losing to DeSmet and falling to Duchesne 2-1 in overtime in the third-place game.

The Knights are a young team made up mostly of sophomores and juniors.

Junior midfielder Jeremy Feasowies has posted 12 goals and two assists, junior forward Frank Livingstone has 11 goals and six assists and senior midfielder Jeff Lecker has seven goals and five assists.

"We have a good skill level on our team," coach Vince Nowak said. "We've generally been a defensive-oriented team, but we've been keeping the ball at the other end of the field."

Parkway South

After last year's run to the Missouri state semifinals, the Patriots lost 10 starters and have spent this season rebuilding. Parkway South eliminated CBC last year and finished 25-3-3 after placing third in the state finals, the best season in school history.

The Patriots stood at 6-5 before Friday's game with Eureka. Coach Nate Wolf hopes his team can continue improving this week.

"We're looking at it as a chance to get experience," Wolf said. "We've got a young club, but I'm happy with the way the kids are playing. We're starting to get our wings now."

Senior Mike McGrath, the team's only returning starter, is playing sweeper and is leading the team with 10 goals and five assists. The team's other top players are junior fullbacks Ryan Wood and Bryan Sanders, junior midfielder Brian Dickerson and junior forward Chris Keene.

Hazelwood Central

The Hawks (4-2-5) have been looking for ways to score this season after losing several key players to graduation. Senior forward Curt Pehlman has led the way thus far with three goals and three assists.

"The team's captains are senior midfielder Kyle Lewis and senior sweeper John Hartsell.

"We're young this year," coach Dean Schuenberg said. "The kids are playing hard, we're just having problems putting the ball in the net."

GROUP B

CBC

The Cadets have already won two tournaments this season, the CBC Tournament and the CYC Bob Guelker Tournament, and will be looking to make it three this week in Granite City. The Cadets entered Saturday night's showdown against Aquinas Mercy at 14-0-1 and had allowed just three goals on the year.

"We've been consistent," coach Terry Michler said. "At the beginning of the year, we were having a little trouble finishing, but we've been playing a lot better and we've been able to do it against good competition."

The Cadets, loaded with talent and ranked seventh in the nation by USA Today, have already defeated DeSmet, Vianney, Granite City and Chaminade twice. The team's only blemish was a 1-1 tie with SLUH in the CBC Tournament.

Junior striker Eric Kustas has 11 goals. Jeff DiMaria, a senior midfielder, is the team's leading scorer with four goals and eight assists.

"He's our go-to guy," Michler said. "He's a quarterback."

14th Tournament of Champions features usual star-studded fieldBy Tony Panozzo
Staff writer

CBC soccer coach Terry Michler has watched his team overperform just about everyone this season while compiling a 14-0 record and earning a Top 10 national ranking.

But the Cadets' ultimate test will come this week in Granite City during the 14th annual Tournament of Champions. CBC enters as the tournament favorite, a position that has proved difficult to live up to in the past.

THE 16-TEAM tournament has often been referred to as the premier event of its kind. Year after year, what is called the most challenging high school soccer tournament in the country draws numerous college recruiters and attracts the top teams in the St. Louis area.

The tournament will kick off Monday at The Gauntlet. Pool play will conclude Friday, and the semifinals and the finals will be held Saturday.

This year's tournament is divided into four groups and features one of the most balanced fields in several years. The Cadets, ranked first in the area among large schools, will be joined by seven other teams ranked in the Journal soccer poll. CBC is also ranked seventh by USA Today.

"It's going to be a great tournament," Granite City coach

Mike Villa's Vianney Golden Griffins have won the last three years in Granite City.

Gene Baker said. "We've got a lot of good teams in there."

"We've had a tendency for the No. 1-ranked team coming in to get upset. But CBC is a very tough team and that will be tough to do. They are a cut above. They have a great deal of talent and a great history."

THE CADETS, WHO were scheduled to face Aquinas Mercy on Saturday night in a battle between the area's top-ranked large and small-school teams, will be looking to unseat a team that has made history over the past three years in Granite City.

Soccer

The Vianney Golden Griffins have won three straight Tournament of Champions titles and five overall, both records. Vianney has enjoyed remarkable success over the past three years at The Gauntlet.

The Griffins have won 15 straight tournament games dating back to 1981. Last year, Vianney met CBC in the semifinals and defeated the Cadets on penalty kicks. CBC was undefeated at the time and ranked first in the country.

Even coach Mike Villa has a tough time believing the Griffins' success at the Gauntlet.

"THAT'S AMAZING," Villa said of his team's run of success in Granite City. "I think it's always tough to win there. If you have the horses, it makes it a lot easier. We were a very strong defensive team last year."

"You're playing tough teams every game. I think last year we were a little fortunate."

The Griffins defeated Aquinas Mercy on penalty kicks for last year's title. Goalkeeper Casey Kippel helped lead the way and earned tournament MVP honors.

Both the Cadets and the Falcons found out first-hand just how difficult it can be to win the tournament.

"I don't think you can ever put

Nemeth and Wilson entered the game five minutes into the second half, and Nemeth nearly scored soon after. At 47:38, Belleville East goalkeeper Brian Herbert stopped Nemeth at the right post, followed a throw-in from the sideline by Jon Reader.

THE WARRIORS dominated the rest of the half and scored twice in the final 12:18. Mills made it 3-0 at 67:42 when he took a pass from Justin McMillian and drilled a 15-yard shot into the net.

"Mills had a very strong game," Baker said. "He's been playing very well for us."

Petroski set up Granite City's final goal when he headed a long kick by Matt Little to Stephens, who came in alone on Herbert and scored with 5:41 left to play.

Petroski and McMillian led the Warriors with three points each. (See GAME, Page 6B)

Moriarty have keyed a defense that has 12 shutouts on the year. "They're just phenomenal," Michler said of CBC's twin defenders. "They're the common denominator."

St. Louis U. High
The Junior Bulls are looking forward to Friday's rematch with CBC. SLUH led the Cadets 1-0 with 12 minutes to play earlier this season but could not hold on. "We were very close," coach Charlie Martel said. "Our players want to play CBC. This is a group that has not beaten CBC since its freshman year."

The Junior Bulls have gone 4-4 against a tough early-season schedule and have been working on their offense.
Junior Craig Stanley has three goals on the year, and senior Rob Garagola has two. The team's other leaders have been junior keeper David Jettin, seniors Pat Best, Brian Haddock and Pat Peagan and freshman Taylor Twillman.

Okaville
After reaching the state quarterfinals and finishing 16-10 last year, the Tigers' (6-2) have been slowed down by inconsistency this season. "We anticipated picking up where we left off, but we're still in the process of finding the right players," coach Dave Robben said. "The potential is there."

Brian Spray, an all-tournament selection last year, has returned for his senior season and has eight goals and seven assists. Senior forward Ryan Kiser has five goals and two assists. Senior forward Ryan Kiser has five goals and two assists. Senior forward Ryan Kiser has five goals and two assists.

Chaminade
Ben Backlage, one of the area's top scorers, is enjoying another sensational season with the Flyers. Backlage, a 6-2, 185-pound striker and Division I prospect, has seven goals and four assists and is being recruited by Indiana, St. Louis University and Connecticut.

St. Mary's
The Flyers are in the midst of their best season in seven years under Gauvain and good at 11-2 before Friday's game with DeMet. They have defeated Aquinas Mercy, St. Mary's, Duquesne and Rosary and placed third in the CYC Tournament.

GROUP C
Aquinas/Mercy
With seven Division I prospects, the Falcons (7-2) have one of their most talented senior groups in years. Mark Filla, a forward who has six goals and six assists, leads the way.

St. Louis U. High
The Flyers are in the midst of their best season in seven years under Gauvain and good at 11-2 before Friday's game with DeMet. They have defeated Aquinas Mercy, St. Mary's, Duquesne and Rosary and placed third in the CYC Tournament.

"Most of these kids have been together all four years," Drake said. "Nucleus-wise, it may be the best team we've had, or one of the best."

Granite City
The Warriors won the tournament title in 1990, but have failed to reach the semifinals the past two years. Granite City is 12-3 and paced by leading scorer Shawn Petroski, a Division I prospect and one of the area's top forwards.

O'Fallon
The Panthers have earned a dangerous reputation over the past three years in the tournament, but they will get a tough test in the first round Monday against Aquinas Mercy.

McCluer North
After a slow start, the Stars have rebounded from the loss of leading scorer Paul Drew and have gone 4-2-3 this season. The Stars turned in one of their best efforts of the season last week in a 2-2 tie with Rosary.

GROUP D
DeMet
The defending Missouri state 4A champions have picked up where they left off last season. The Spartans are 12-1 and ranked second in the area behind CBC. The Spartans' only loss came against the Cadets of the CBC Tournament.

St. Mary's
The Spartans' only loss came against the Cadets of the CBC Tournament. Coach Greg Vitello said the Spartans have a different team this season after losing two key players to graduation, Chris Klein (Indiana) and Craig Corbett (St. Louis University).

"We were really playing well and then it ended up kind of frustrating," coach Jim Bokern said. "Right now, we're struggling."

St. Mary's has been led by several Division I prospects, including center midfielder Greg Thebeau and forward Dan Schulte. Schulte has four goals and three assists.

Rosary
A balanced group of players has led the Rebels to their best start in seven years under coach Joe Morgan. The Rebels stood at 3-1 entering Saturday's game with Duquesne.

Duquesne
The Rebels' leading scorers have been Brian Beckman, a sophomore forward who has six goals; D.J. Newsome, a junior midfielder who has five goals; and John Lee, a senior forward who has six assists. Junior midfielder Brad Hornberger has four assists.

Senior fullback Kyle Stetler, senior midfielder Dan Harvath and senior fullback Adam Rahr are the Rebels' other top players.

The Rebels are newcomers to the tournament, but they got a jump start on the rest of the field last week during the Hazelwood Central Invitational.

Duquesne defeated three straight teams in pool play at The Gauntlet, including host Granite City, to advance to the tournament semifinals. The Rebels (11-2) defeated Howell North in the third-place game.

The Rebels were on that field three times before the big tournament," coach Dave Thurner said. "I think it helped our confidence."

The Rebels went 20-3 last season and have returned 14 seniors. Their only losses have come against Chaminade and Rosary.

Leading scorer Jason Draht has 11 goals and Ted Kaminski has nine.

Park District basketball

Men's basketball leagues are now being formed by the Granite City Park District. Games will be played on Wednesdays and Thursdays at Grigsby Junior High School and Prather Elementary.

The program will begin Nov. 16. The entry fee is $200 and can be paid at the Wilson Park office. For more information, call recreation supervisor Ray Hoffman at 877-3059.

Coed, men's broomball

The Granite City Park District is organizing a Coed Broomball league to be played on Sunday evenings at 8:15 p.m. and 9:15 p.m. beginning Nov. 6.

Men's broomball teams will play on Thursday nights beginning Nov. 3.

Entry fees for both leagues are $200, plus a $25 non-resident fee for players living outside the park district. The deadline for entry fees is Oct. 7. Last year's teams will have first choice and new teams will be placed on a waiting list.

For more information, call Ray Hoffman at 877-3059.

Coed volleyball

The Granite City Park District is organizing a Coed Volleyball league to be played Monday evenings at 7 p.m. at Coolidge Junior High School.

Entry fees are $150 per team, plus a $25 fee for non-residents. Registration will be held Sept. 26 through Oct. 7. League play will begin Nov. 7.

For more information, call Ray Hoffman at 877-3059.

QCSA nominations

The Quad-Cities Soccer Association is seeking candidates to nominate its board members for the 1995 season. Nominations will be made in a meeting 7 p.m. Oct. 11.

For more information, call Jim at 451-5665.

Christmas in April

The Christmas in April Tri-Cities Area Golf Tournament, a four-person scramble, will be held Oct. 8 at the Legacy Golf Course.

The entry fee of $50 per person includes 18 holes and cart. For more information, call Butch at 931-2048, Tom at 931-5234 or Janet at 452-5500.

Golf scramble

The Edwardsville Glen Carbon Chamber of Commerce will host its third annual golf scramble Oct. 7 at Fox Creek Golf Club.

The fee of $70 per golfer includes 18 holes of golf with cart, greens fees, one mulligan per person per team, and food and beverages. Lunch will be served at 11:30 a.m., and the tournament will begin with a shotgun start at noon.

Prizes will be awarded for longest drive and closest to the pin. Attendance prizes will also be presented.

Beverages will be available throughout the course, and dinner will be served after the tournament. Non-golfers are welcome to join the group at 5:30 p.m. for dinner at a cost of $5 per person.

Four-player teams can be assembled in advance or matched up at the event. To register a team or to sign up as a $50 fee sponsor, call Karen Herren at the Chamber of Commerce office, 655-7600.

In case of inclement weather, a rain date will be announced.

Celebrity golf tourney

The Whitney Herzog Foundation will sponsor a celebrity golf tournament Oct. 11 at Grand Marais Golf Course in Frankfort, Mo.

The tournament will benefit the Ted Savage-Craig Crossley Youth Golf Program at Grand Marais.

The celebrity event will cap the first phase of construction and improvement at the 57-year-old golf course. One of the highlights of the Oct. 11 bash will be the dedication of the public course's new clubhouse.

In addition to Herzog, the event will feature Illinois Gov. Jim Edgar. Invited to take part in the event is a long list of current and former Cardinals players, including Hall of Famers Stan Musial and Red Schoendienst, Ozzie Smith, Jose Oquendo, Andy Van Slyke, broadcasters Jack Buck, Mike Shannon, Al Hrabosky, basketball coaches Norm Stewart of the University of Missouri and Charlie Spoonhour of St. Louis University.

The field will be limited to 28 teams. Each team will include a celebrity and a member of the PGA Gateway Section.

The cost is $200 per player or three-man teams at $500. Included in the package is golf, cart, autographs and dinner. To register, call Verlin Fishback or Willie Williams at Grand Marais, 398-9999.

Rattlers seeking players

The 14-and-under St. Louis Rattlers girls fast-pitch softball team is seeking players. For more information, call Kirk at (314) 838-1989 or Ollie at (314) 831-1205.

Softball school

Duffin Fast-pitch, a school for softball pitchers, will be starting its fall session Oct. 3. Each session consists of eight 30-minute lessons and one lesson per week. The cost is $72 for the school, which has locations in Elliptical, Mo., and Brighton, Ill. For more information, call Barb at (314) 326-7317.

speed to catch up to them."

EDWARDSVILLE'S defense, meanwhile, turned it up a notch after Granite City's first drive. The Tigers did not allow the Warriors another first down for the rest of the half.

"The first series, I was very concerned," Dougherty said. "But the kids showed some composure. They settled down, and got it done from then on."

"I was very pleased with our gutting level on defense. The kids came ready to play."

After Thomas' touchdown, Cross scored on a 57-yard run to make it 21-7 and Dougherty extended the lead with two scoring passes. He hit Steffen Nicholson with a 22-yard pass and then Cross for a 12-yard pass to give the Tigers a 28-point lead at halftime.

Both teams traded possessions to begin the second half, and the Tigers' running game came alive again in the third quarter. On the Tigers' second drive of the half, Cross followed his blockers to the outside and raced for a 48-yard touchdown, and Thomas added a 65-yard run on the next series with 3:27 left in the quarter. Dougherty's seventh extra-point kick made it 49-7.

THOMAS FINISHED with 136 yards on just six carries. For the game, Edwardsville's offense amassed 495 total yards.

"The offensive line dominated," Dougherty said.

The Warriors scored a late touchdown in the fourth quarter when sophomore quarterback Kevin Harris hit Jason Moad with a 21-yard pass with 39 seconds left in the game.

The Tigers won for the fourth straight time after opening the season with two forfeit losses. Edwardsville was coming off a narrow victory over Collinsville, and Dougherty said he wasn't expecting a blowout.

"I didn't anticipate this," Dougherty said. "I think the kids are doing a great job. It was a tough start, but I knew we had a good ballclub and the kids have matured."

the front-running team right to the finals," Michler said. "There's too much talent. I've always said the Granite tournament tests your depth, your vulnerability and the weakest part of your game."

"IT'S THE BEST tournament there is," Aquinas coach Vince Drake said. "It's better than our state tournament."

Several other area coaches have echoed Drake's statements. In addition to featuring the top large-school and small-school teams from the area, the tournament challenges teams to win three games in two days.

"You've got the Granite City tournament and then you've got the state tournament," Hazelwood Central coach Dean Schulenberg said. "It's the best, and I've said that every year. There's probably not a better tournament in the country. It's a neat thing."

"It's a compliment, No. 1, to be in this tournament," Chamaine coach Mike Gauvain said. "Every year, the top teams are there. I think this year is no exception."

"THE TOURNAMENT consists of four groups of four teams each. Group A is made up of Vianney, Francis Howell North, Parkway South and Hazelwood Central."

Group B, considered the toughest bracket this year, consists of CBC, St. Louis U. High, Oakville and Chamaine. Group C contains Aquinas Mercy, Granite City, O'Fallon and McCluer North.

Group D, with DeSmet, St. Mary's, Rosary and Duchesne,

Vianney celebrates winning its third straight Tournament of Champions last October at The Gauntlet.

appears to be the most balanced of the four divisions.

"I think (the tournament) has some good balance," Michler said. "The B group is strong and the D group is well-balanced. Granite and Aquinas will be winner takes all (in Group C), but O'Fallon can always throw a wrench in it."

O'Fallon, coached by Art Voellinger, is just one of several teams that have surprised higher-ranked teams over the past three years. The Panthers upset SLUH last year, tied CBC the year before and have earned a reputation for rising to the occasion in Granite City.

"THAT'S NICE to hear," Voellinger said. "This is the premier high school soccer tournament in the United States and we're very proud to be in it."

The winners of each group will advance to Saturday's semifinals. The winner of Group C will meet the winner of Group D at 9 a.m., and the Group A and B winners will play at 11 a.m.

The third-place match will be held at 5 p.m., and the title game will be played at 7 p.m.

Most of the coaches agree that CBC is the team to beat. "I would say CBC would have to be the favorite," Villa said. "At this point, I don't see anyone beating them. They might be the No. 1 team in the country. But DeSmet could be right there with them."

"CBC has a great team, but DeSmet is not too far behind," Schulenberg said. "Chamaine's having a great season. Granite's having a great year and the brackets are all tough."

"I think this year is probably the strongest it's been in the last four or five years."

apiece. McMillian scored Granite City's first goal 18:36 into the game when his 25-yard blast found the back of the net.

"That was a bomb," Baker said. "McMillian had a very good game."

The Warriors also got another strong performance from senior John Nizinski, who continues to play despite a broken nose. Nizinski scored the game-winning goal against Collinsville and set up several plays in the air Thursday.

"HE PLAYED with a lot of courage for someone with a broken nose," Baker said. "He won five or six head balls."

The game featured the return of another injured player, Paulie Bucherich. The senior midfielder played the entire first half and the first five minutes of the second half, the most time he has seen this season.

"Paulie played well," Baker said. "He's coming around." Bucherich is still recovering from a knee injury he suffered earlier this year in the offseason. He played sweeper Thursday and is hoping to see more time in each successive game.

"We're just building it a little more each game," Bucherich said. "That's what it's going to take. I need confidence and I can't think about getting hurt. I'm just going to play where the team needs me."

BUCHERICH PLAYED in the first half of Tuesday's game against Collinsville, but a slippery field limited his movement and he sat out most of the game.

Bucherich is strengthening his knee and said he hopes to be back to full strength soon, perhaps in time for this week's Tournament of Champions.

"That's what I'm shooting for," Bucherich said. "I'm lifting weights with my leg each day and I'm trying to get stronger. It feels great."

Suburban Journals

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and a dark vertical strip along the right edge, possibly indicating the binding or a shadow from the scanning process. There is no text or other markings on the page.
